

Nicolle Caputa

Nicolle Caputa is a story-loving author in pursuit of sharing fiction with the world. It is her dream to share her characters and their worlds of her imagination with other fiction-obsessed readers.

When she's not physically writing or editing, she's usually baking, crafting, or spending time outdoors with her husband, David and family.

Nicolle focusses many different genres of fiction at a time, not locking herself on any single one. Whether it be dystopian, historical fiction, or fantasy, she hopes to entrance readers into another world of imagination in any season or stage.
